

I would just like to say: " I wish you could eliminate all these nuisance calls, I would be able to enjoy resting a little during the day." I work 12 hr days, not by choice but by necessity to make ends meet. So what little free time I have ,I don't want to be answering the phone just to hang up on people. I even had one person argue with me that they had the right to call us up until 9 o'clock at night. Well I told her I had the right to hang up on her and I did. The worst thing that I really get mad about is when they call on Sundays ,at all hours. Come-on I like to have at least one day off a week. If I start getting all these calls again I will disconnect my phone service and see just how many more the phone companies will lay-off in the future. Thank you for listening
